

THE JUNGLE

The word "jungle" means an area with a large density of trees.

You can find a jungle in Brazil, in South America, in Bolivia, in Mexico, in India and in a lot of countries too.

Animals

Animals that live in jungles include jaguars, ocelots, howler monkeys, crowned eagles, elephants, tigers, rhinoceroses, and cobras. Many of the animals living in jungles or tropical rainforests are endangered.

Climate

Cold – between 10-20°C

Warm – between 21-25°C

Hot – between 26-31°C

Download from Dreamstime.com

This watermarked comp image is for previewing purposes only.

ID 53157071

Hanna Daruha | Dreamstime.com

Plant life

In the jungle there are a lot of plants like:

Jungle Bells Plant: Jungle Bells Plant It is lovely, but needs much light and water.

Jungle Dweller Bush: Jungle Dweller Bush is the home of insects and small animals.

Funny facts about the jungle

- Over half of the world's species live in a jungle environment.
- Jungles are usually in warm places with high rainfall.
- Tarzan is a famous fictional character who is raised by apes in African jungles.

Directed by:

Víctor López

Jorge Gonzalo

Beatriz Usoz

Asly Suarez

